Our Vision

The Pelican Library seeks to build a nationwide network of outstanding private collections to inspire, educate, support, and serve families and communities through intentional curation and aesthetic design in order that they may have memorable library experiences and become lifelong readers.

Curation

Libraries will be centrally curated by a team of librarians formed by the head branch librarians, with inclusion criteria into the collection based on a book's alignment with truth, goodness, and beauty.

VISIT

Library Network

Branches of the Pelican Library will be established across the nation, beginning in East Texas. We will partner with local communities to build libraries in abandoned churches, other historical structures, within the cultural, social, and intellectual fabric of their town.
